

Task i & ii

Anatomy of a Tourist + Anatomy of a Traveller

Anatomy is the study of the structure and parts of a thing. This is human anatomy:

Your first tasks in this class are to create TWO anatomy graphics:

one of a TRAVELLER, and one of a TOURIST.

You already began working on definitions and some of you already naturally began drawing! So you're well underway. Each anatomy graphic should have as many different attributes as possible. The graphic element can be drawn or collaged. It must convey as full a picture as you can muster; the goal is to be informative and easily understood; it is visual but not an art project.

Consider all the variables, barriers, and motivators: age, income, reasons, destinations, modes, accommodations, itinerary, duration, etc.

Below expectations	Success Criteria to meet expectations	Exceeds expectations
	Lists specific variables, barriers, and motivators to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of WHO travels and HOW they travel
